

The Sun-Downer

D.C. Tries to tunnel Out!

Holes and piles of freshly dug earth were spotted next to the D.C.s tent yesterday.

Half the site disappeared off to the Jamboree today (an excellent visit by way!) and on return noticed what appeared to be an escape attempt by the D.C.

Did the pressure eventually get to Julie? No, it actually turned out to be a mole trying to dig his way in!

Senior 1st Aider

Comments have been made that the senior 1st aider on site is either working on commission or drumming up business. I'm sure this is just rumour and that all incidents were entirely coincidental.

D.C. Shares!

The D.C. has indicated that "I wish I had shares in Tesco Express following this week, with the spare £24,000" unfortunately site services have beaten her to it with the purchase of their new vehicle!

THE MUNCHIES

Reporters: Natasha Henty and Lucienne Maloney-Geany.

This week the Sea Scouts have had a variety of food.

Every morning we had bacon, egg, rolls, cereal, sausages, and porridge. (Did you know we have eaten over 100 eggs this week!)

Every lunch we had sandwiches, tomatoes, cucumber, crisps, fruit and cake. (We had 350 pieces of cake)

Every dinner we had either pot-luck or a set dinner. (We enjoyed the cat food – YUCK!) For pudding we had lovely chocolate and fruit. We have eaten loads of chocolate so overall we had a great time.

STOP PRESS

The Jamboree

1st Ferring had a great time and would definitely do it again. Some people even managed to swap scarves and badges.

Peter Duncan upstages Nobby Knight!

"Trust him to go one better!" said Nobby

Happy Birthday

Ryan Lillywhite (1st Rustington) was 15 yesterday also Jamie Wadey (5th Littlehampton) was 9 years old. All the camp send them best wishes and hope that they enjoyed their birthday at the Jamboree.

A big thank you

From all the reports I've heard all the youngsters have enjoyed themselves, even if we have worn them out!

A big thank you goes to all that helped make this event possible. Leaders, helpers, parents, site services, activities, district team, the list is endless and I am deliberately not giving names as I don't wish to miss out anyone.

WELL DONE ALL!!

Camp.....How Fun

Reporters: Phill Alderslade (Explorer)
Billy & James Court (Scouts)

I think we can all agree that camp was great fun. We all enjoyed it, many activities were prepared for us and the tuck shop which was open to all sold many different sweets and souvenirs. A Visit to the Jamboree for half the Scouts on Tuesday and the rest on Thursday was full of different things such as badge swapping, restaurants made up by different countries that were there and also shops where you could buy sweets and souvenirs. There were lots of different parts of the camp. It was divided up into three different categories. These were tropical, ocean and desert. The journey was long and tiring but we got through the day with smiles on our faces.

The next day we woke up bright and early for the sunrise ceremony. We stood around the arena in full uniform where we renewed our promises. We then watched a pageant about the timeline of Scouting from 1907 – 2007, the rest of the day was filled with activities. Steve Lucas (Arundel Scout Leader) kindly made a water slide which was a new activity for everyone to enjoy. The evening shortly came with a campfire and songs, which followed an amazing firework display.

Thursday was another day of activities but in the morning Arundel Scouts & Cubs & Barnham Cubs went orienteering and had great fun, we all had great fun and met new people, but the people we need to thank are the leaders who organised this fantastic camp.

C.C Inspects

County Commissioner (John Spickett) dutifully carried out a tent inspection on 1st Arundel and 1st Barnham.

The outcome of this inspection is not known, however we have deducted 10 points from the C.C. for having his hands in his pockets throughout the inspection.

Crate Challenge

The crate stack challenge took on a new level today. The equalled 17 ½ layers was finally beaten with an impressive 18 ½ layers. The record now stands with Andrew and Oliver Rumbol from 1st East Preston.

(Ed: This HAS to be the final record, or.. Unless you know better.)

Lonely Hearts

All's well that end's well.
It's assumed that as their have been no new reports, that..

- Skip found his Brown Owl
- Jill made it up the her laminator
- Site Services got their mate

And...

The "Big Picture" was found a home!!
(But, shhhhhh don't let it hear about the other new shiny Big Picture)

Free to a good home Sam the Magician

Site services are offering sheets of 8'x4' of Stirling board and plywood used on the activities. Any group interested should contact Simon Lawrence direct and needs to be able to take off site themselves.

Sam the magician (Viv Turner's nephew) managed to amaze and mesmerize the crowds with his close-up card tricks and shuffles.

Following his visits around the tables at the Grand Banquet, we expect the membership of the magic circle to be increasing.

John from 1st Barnham proved a formidable opponent in the Diablo throwing stakes and we watched an impressive throw (AND catch) of approx 30ft!

Special Edition

A special edition of the newsletter will be included on the CD that will be distributed next week.

As the activities are open this afternoon, the final results of the crate staking, rifle shooting and others will all be included.

The results of these items will be in to late to be included in this edition.

Police pop in for coffee

In-between incidents the police helicopter paid a visit to their colleagues on site. This may have been due to the large police presence on site, but we think that they just wanted to show off to the kids! Groups of 20 children were able to inspect it with the flight crew.

Lucky Cow Sleeps With Arundel Explorers Jambo

Reporters: Alex Alderslade, Richard Alderslade, Matthew Mead.

On Wednesday night a strange appearance was made in an Arundel Explorer tent. The four explorers were bewildered when they looked up to see... a cow!

However it was just clothes hanging from a line. Randomly placed the clothes formed the image of a perfect cow. Even with a scarf for a tail and an extra scarf around its neck. The 4 Explorers (except Phil who was asleep) had no idea of how the cow formed. The Explorers entered fits of laughter but Alex, Matt and Richard have something to say.

“We like your big brown eyes.
We like the way you danced on the Anchor Spreadable advert.
But most of all, most of all
We like the way you mooooooo!”

Lost Property

The most unusual piece of lost property was handed in today.. A lost TOOTH! If anyone hasn't noticed that they've lost a tooth..

Deliberate mistakes

There may have been spelling errors etc. but there were also deliberate mistakes

(always on page 1). Did you spot them? A clue, edition 1, contents said “inside story” on page 6. No one actually asked me for the other pages!

Jambo! Hello!

For those that were hooked on the Jambo song, don't forget this can be purchased online and some big stores.

Afternoon Activities Newsletter

Reporter: Bradley Fedarb & Luke Anastasiades (1st Amgmering)

Grass sledging

Every activity was really good but the grass sledging was a blast. You get taken in a vn to the top of the hill, then the flying lessons begin!

All the newsletter for the week, plus the Saturday leaders version and a large selection of donated photos will be burnt onto a master CD and sent to GSLs. You may distribute as many copies as you require.

Copies will also be made available for the Time Capsule and any District team members that are interested.

Please send email requests to:

news2007@4thlittlehampton.org.uk

A big thank you goes to everyone that contributed either pictures and/or stories.

A reminder that site services / activities will need any help available to dismantle the massive site that they have worked so hard on both providing and maintaining.

Stop Press

Police invade the site!

“Don't panic Mr. Mannering” (or should that be Mrs. Dixon?)

It turned out to be the local police with Land Rovers and a VERY nice Lotus!

(A personal note to both my son & daughter on camp.. ”NO you can't have one!!!”)
