

Bus stuck in the mud

Jamboree Long Journey!!

The airport bit was very boring. When we finally arrived at the Jamboree some went to see served. It helped if you had tiny Cubs with you because they could push in front.!

The International Village was great fun with lots of crafts to try and loads of different places to eat,

There are lots of opportunities for badge and scarf swapping and for meeting new people.

All the different uniforms were fascinating – be prepared to have your photo taken!

One bus nearly didn't make it to the Jamboree!! On turning in the Car Park area it skidded and got stuck in a muddy patch on the car park. Thanks to the valiant efforts of the Site Service team, Mick Stevens, the tractor driver and lots of muscle power they managed to shift it and were only about 20 minutes late leaving.

the show and were entertained by songs and dances from the British Isles.

Queues in the Scout Jamboree shop were massive and some had to wait over an hour to be

Welcome to the Beavers

The day starts early today. Everyone will be ready for the sunrise ceremony to start at 8a.m. prompt. The Beavers are being brought onto site to join the rest of us. It will be a lively start to the day and an event to be remembered! Following the ceremony everyone will break for a late breakfast.

Extra staff will be on the activities to cater for the extra numbers on camp. Tomorrow's newsletter will contain all the news about the Sunrise Ceremony, so don't miss it!

Straw caving

From today (Weds.) the straw caving will be unrestricted. In other words you will be able to "have as many goes as you like" (a direct quote from activities services!)

Inside this issue:

The Adventure Rush	1
Welcome to the Beavers	1
Lonely Hearts club	2
Crate Stacking Challenge	2
Raft Building	3

Special points of interest:

- Lonely Hearts—see page 2 for more information!
- Reporters needed, - Contact Andy (Ned) Rowe c/o 4th Littlehampton.

Souvenir Time

Don't forget to get your souvenirs from the Tuck Shop!

Limited Editions – Your one and only chance to get these items.

How about a present for Mum and Dad?

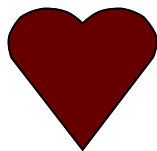

Bargain Prices!!!!

Badges	1.00
Bags	3.00
Gliders	0.60
Bands	0.80
Mugs	2.50
Pencils	0.40
Purses	2.70
Tankards	2.50
Torches	1.30

Lonely Hearts

Jill Gladman left her laminator unattended for over an hour today! Is her search for a photocopier leaving her laminator gathering dust and feeling unused?? Poor laminator!

Happy Birthday

Happy Birthday to Adam Grevett (4th Littlehampton Scout Group) who was 9 on Tuesday.

If you have someone in your group that has a birthday, let us know and it'll appear in the next edition of the newspaper for them to keep.

Crate Stacking Challenge

Reported by Abigail Inch and Natasha Henty (1st Ferring)

The previous record of 15 1/2 layers was skillfully smashed to pieces by Danny and Aaron Shapcott of 1st Ferring Sea Scouts. Now the record stands at a miraculous 17 1/2 LAYERS!!

Do you think you can top that??

If you'd like a change come and see the crate stacking challenge on Friday, when 5th Littlehampton take on 1st

Ferring! See you there..

(Ed. Sounds like the gauntlet has been laid down! But.. Will the 17 1/5 still be the record by Friday? Only you know!)

Rumors and Gossip      Big Picture Campaign

Still?

Following the release of the picture yesterday of the “alleged” still that 1st Rustington had rigged up, it’s been noted that the main competitor (in the beer trade) may have notified Customs & Excise.

Saving Water

Two fellowship members were spotted together in the showers together today. When questioned, the reason given was “he sets the temperature for me” (Anon. reporter)

Prue was Early!!

District Secretary, Prue Payne is notorious for her lack of timekeeping. However, this morning she arrived well in time for the 7.45 deadline. This was despite going to Chichester as she thought she was going to work

Save our Big Picture!!!

This is big picture being born..

Art ‘n you feeling crafty?

Reporter: Rebecca Hartley (1st Ferring)

I went to arts and crafts expecting it to be empty, I was wrong! It was very packed!

There were felting stalls, bracelet stalls, all the stalls you can think of. The possibilities are endless! I hurried over to a croc and shark making table. I managed to make a crocodile out of a clothes peg! Another activity I went to was to make your own keyring. Believe me your patience is really tested but it’s worth it. These are only a few of the activities available in the craft tent, so when you’re in there really let your imagination run wild!

Lost & Found

I’m pleased to report that the trainer handed into security was reunited with it’s other one and that both were reunited with their owner (awwww), but as soon they were all together, he lost them again!

Raft Building

Raft Building

Well maybe! The Explorers all loaded up this morning and went off to Southwater to go raft building. That was the plan anyway. Each team was given the task to build a raft and given 6 poles, rope and 6 barrels. Once built they were to race the rafts.

The Warrior Explorers had a slight setback. They were all asked to stand on the rafts and do “head, shoulders, knees and JUMP!” At that point their raft started falling to pieces! “Ben Rowe swam off with all paddles” leaving the others all stranded. The silver lining was that “we were towed back to shore by two girls in a canoe” (Ed. I’ll sort you out later son!)

Site Services get new vehicles

---

There appears to be an ongoing insiders joke that the editor is not party to, but.. Did site services really get approval for this new £24,000 vehicle??

